FINALIST

The Label Industry Global Awards 2018 will take place Sept. 25, 2018, on the first night of Labelexpo Americas 2018. These awards were created in 2004 to celebrate innovation and excellence, and to recognize and reward the global label and package-printing industry's shining stars.

"We're very excited to be shortlisted as an award finalist," said Rodney Pennings, PCMC's Printing, Coating and Laminating Sales Director. "We appreciate the accolades that showcase our innovative Meridian with the global label and package-printing industry."

GREEN BAY, Wis. — July 25, 2018 — Paper Converting Machine Company (PCMC), part of Barry-Wehmiller, has been named a finalist for the Award for Innovation, one of the key categories of the Label Industry Global Awards 2018.

Shortlisted as one of four finalists, PCMC received the nomination for its recently introduced Meridian laser anilox cleaner. Meridian laser cleaning technology provides printers and converters with a solution for a sustainable, one-pass cleaning system. Anilox rolls are restored to like-new surface conditions at unprecedented speeds, often increasing efficiency by 300 percent or more.

PCMC's Meridian laser anilox cleaner saves customers time and money.
